

A Further Inquiry into the curious events surrounding the Highgate Vampire

By Don Ecker

After having a deep interest into the alleged events surrounding the Highgate Vampire incident, recently I wrote a paper concerning my inquiry. Now, further information has been uncovered by me which cause me to re-think the entire case!

Through diligent research I have uncovered an amazing document which “PROVES” that the Right-Reverend and Bishop Sean Manchester has been DEAD for nigh onto 30 years!! The following is a pamphlet put out by the British Occult Society that announced the death of Manchester in a duel in France when Sean was only 33 years of age!

Manchester Memorial Fund

Slain at the age of thirty-three during a duel to defend the honour of the British Occult Society, Sean Manchester was one of the most fascinating and contradictory figures of our times. He was radical, courageous, handsome, witty and indubitably a great gentleman. The last years of his life were embittered by continuous conflicts with fellow occultists - one of whom dealt the mortal blow in a duel to end the feud. Those who were present tell of a momentary hesitation when the eyes of the duellists met and in that moment Sean Manchester wavered. He seemed to recognize a simple truth and perhaps saw his adversary as a brother for the first time. It was sufficient opportunity for cold steel to glance a blow across the swordsman's brow. He fell, still clutching his sabre, in the lonely tree-shrouded grounds of the Citadelle de Montreuil-sur-Mer.

The British Occult Society now wish to repay the debt to their late President by returning his body to England and erecting a suitable monument at Clacton - the place he loved above all others. Should you wish to make a contribution - no matter how modest - to this end, please forward your cheque or postal order to the British Occult Society and make it out to the MANCHESTER MEMORIAL FUND.

British Occult Society
24, Quakerford Road
London N7 2SG

If you can not read the following, allow me to transcribe the text. (All spelling British)

“Slain at the age of thirty-three during a duel to defend the honour of the British Occult Society, Sean Manchester was one of the most fascinating and contradictory figures of our times. He was radical, courageous, handsome, witty and indubitably a great gentleman. The last years of his life were embittered by continuous conflicts with fellow occultists - one of whom dealt the mortal blow in a duel to end the feud. Those who were present tell of a momentary hesitation when the eyes of the duellist met and in that moment Sean Manchester wavered. He seemed to recognize a simple truth and perhaps saw his adversary as a brother for the first time. It was sufficient opportunity for cold steel to glance a blow across the swordsman's brow. He fell, still clutching his saber, in the lonely tree-shrouded grounds of the Citadelle de Montreuil-cur-ier.

The British Occult Society now wish to repay the debt to their late President by returning his body to England and erecting a suitable monument at Glastonbury – the place he loved above all others. Should you wish to make a contribution – no matter how modest – to this end, please forward your cheque or postal order to the British Occult Society and make it out to the Manchester Memorial Fund. British Occult Society.

The photograph of Sean Manchester lying DEAD after being run through by a yard of COLD STEEL!! (perhaps they should have used an ash stake?)

Okay, do I need to say it? What in hell is going on here? I smell something rotten in Denmark! Since Sean Manchester has been dead all these years, just who in hell is posing as him?? OR – might he have risen from the DEAD?!??

Has anyone seen Sean Manchester? Does he come out in the light? Is this him??
REALLY HIM??

Or might have he been gotten to by the Lusian-Spider? I tried to zoom in on his canine teeth but no luck! And, how many POUNDS did the British Occult Society collect to ship his lifeless corpse back to England? Did they ship him back? OR! Perhaps they all retired to a Pub and drank up the proceeds?!? If they did ship him back, did they “plant him” in Highgate Cemetery? Just where is the body?

Yes, some very curious questions MUST be answered by International Secretary Mr. Dennis Crawford and National Secretary Katrina Garforth-Bles and any other spokespersons of The Friends of Bishop Sean Manchester. Now I have an inkling of why he would never speak to me or appear on my show Dark Matters, Sean Manchester is Dead-Dead-Dead!

Rest assured my faithful readers, we will get to the bottom of this affair at some point!!

The Truth is out there